JAPAN NAVAL CONTROVERSY MAY COME TO HEAD

BRITISH DIPLOMAT OPPOSES ASSOCIATION OF NATIONS

Sir Arthur Balfour Leaves Impression That Harding Association Must Not Conflict In Function With League Of Nations—Jap
Controversy Overshadows All Issues.

JAP NAVAL REPLY EXPECTED TUESDAY

Washington, D. C., November 29.—President Harding's proposed "Association of Nations" must fulfill functions other than those of the League of Nations if it is to have the support of Great Britain. Parallel lines will not suit.

This idea stood out decisively today as the result of a brief interview with Sir Arthur Balfour, head of the British Arms Conference delegation. Sir Arthur Balfour has been avoiding with consummate skill any statement which might bind his country, but his brief talk left the conviction he stands as before—strong for the League of Nations and opposed to annual sessions at Washington for an international body.

Jap Navy Controversy Decision Near

Overshadowing all other developments in the Arms Conference today is the controversy, now believed near a decision, as to how far the Japanese navy is to be cut.

All of Japan's cards are now in the hands of Baron Kato, chief delegate of the Japanese delegation. He apparently is willing to make some concession to Japan's previous stand for a 70% ratio of capital ships but seems reluctant to accede without reservation to the 60% ratio proposed by the Hughes programme. He may propose a 63% ratio.

British Opposes Association

British opposition to the Harding Association of Nations was made clear by the significant remark by Sir Arthur Balfour:

"We don't want two League of Nations."

Baron Kato, who is opposed to Germany's admission to the conference as suggested by President Harding.

The American Advisory Committee has been unable to limit the amount of arms in warfare.

The Far Eastern Sector Chinese continue to fight for "freedom of foreign domination" by pushing their demand for the removal of foreign troops.

Japs May Answer Tuesday

Japan tomorrow will probably again take issue against the naval reductions of the American government, it was learned today.

Japanese naval experts then will reply to the last American answer insisting the Hughes calculations were accurate and should stand unchanged, it was declared by high Japanese naval authorities.

NOON STAGE HERE SHOWS FLOOD PAST

Pittsburgh Experiences
November Flood—Harrington Reports Show
Other Branches Up.

The continuous downpour of rain the past few days swelled the West Branch of the Susquehanna to flood proportions. By 6 o'clock last evening the mark at the Market street bridge showed almost a seven foot flood and as it continued to rain early in the evening a much bigger river was looked for this morning. The change of temperature during the night with a cessation of the rain however put off at least all fears of a serious flood and while the 8-foot mark was reached during the night the water began to recede and noon today registered 7 1/2 feet and continues to fall slowly each hour.

Flood Stage at Smoky City
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 29.—Rivers and creeks in and around Pittsburgh reached flood stage today when the water at Point bridge rose to the 22 foot level, the first November flood since 1900. A crest of 25 feet probably will be reached forecasters announced. No serious damage is expected.

Home along the waterfront were surrounded by one foot of water this morning and inmates were compelled to leave by rowboats while others sought refuge on second and third floors.

As the prosecution today was swinging the trial to Arbuckle's defense in his trial on a charge of manslaughter, attorneys for the state were considering this move.

The state is known to have a portion of the last film in which Virginia Rappe appeared "The Twilight Baby" which shows her riding horses and leaping and performing stunts. They claim no sick girl could have done this. This would be brought forward to refute claims of the defense that Miss Rappe was

LEGION TENDERS LATE OFFICIALS FAREWELL DINNER

Retiring Officers Headed By Col. Kerr Are Honored At Banquet
At Dimeling Monday.

PLEA MADE FOR AMERICANISM

Col. Kerr Presented
With Jewelled Past
Commander's Pin—Enthusiastic Meet Held.

Lieut. Col. Frederick B. Kerr, Commander, Julian Chase, Vice Commander, and Harry Evans, Post Adjutant, of the John Shade Post of the American Legion were tendered a banquet at the Dimeling last evening in appreciation of their work for the Legion during its formative period. These able officers retire from office with the heartfelt thanks of every member of the Legion as was made very evident at the dinner which nearly one hundred comrades attended.

Especially to Mr. Kerr was this dinner given and a pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a Past Commander's Jewel to him. The presentation was made by his successor as Commander, J. Mitchell Chase, Esq. Commander Chase made an address which every citizen of this city should have heard. While directed to the members of the Legion, it was truly a sermon on patriotism. He emphasized the Legion doctrine of companionship, equality and Americanism 100 percent; paid high tribute to the retiring officers and asked for the support of the members for the coming year. Wallace Smith, Esq., spoke on the theme of service in a very able manner.

Keep Things Moving

Captain Edward Kelly presided as master of ceremonies in happy manner and he kept things on the move every minute. A fine orchestra dispensed music and the Keystone Quartette and Jim Allen entertained. Responses to the call of the Postmaster were made by Russell Shaw, Dr. Wilson, Stewart and Piper, G. A. Stewart, B. Earl Shirey, James Mitchell, Jr., Dr. Stahlberg, Major Whitney, Harry Evans, Julian Chase.

Col. Kerr accepted the gift in a few words, gave all credit for the success of the Legion here to the members and the teamwork among them. It was in fact a happy occasion and will long be remembered by the boys who answered the call of their country.

Few Sea Otters Remain.

Sea otters are courageous and playful. They will lie on their backs in the ocean and toss kelp for hours, taking great pleasure in eating it. Some say that the mother often sleeps on her back with the puppy held between her fore feet. She will never desert her young, and she keeps them at her side for more than a year. The skins are a rich brown brown, sprinkled over with silvery silver hairs. These are one of them up at the American Museum of Natural History. They are today, as a rule, only for museums.

Trees' Winter Plans.
The catnip tree has a way all its own in getting ready for winter, says the American Forestry Magazine. It places three leaves in a whorl and then at a little distance above there is another whorl so placed that the leaves will cover the spaces between the leaves below. In winter we cannot see these leaves, but the buds show where they were and the buds just above add certainty to their location. If we find a tree with the buds arranged in this way on the vigorous shoots we may be assured it is one of the two species of catnip.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick head—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

OYSTERS AGAIN

You've been surfeited with turkey for the latter part of the week and now your palate probably demands something new, why not give these good oysters a chance to get in their work.

You'll like them stewed, fried or any other way your fancy dictates. You'll particularly like these that we are getting for they are great big fat ones coming right from the home of good oysters.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

The judgment of Judge Royal Graham of Denver, who gave Mrs. Clyde Cassidente the option of surrendering her five undernourished and poorly kept children or submitting to an operation which would make future motherhood for her impossible, lends no approval among leaders of thought throughout the Nation. All agree that while a bum and neglectful housekeeper is a thing to be abhorred at the same time Judge Graham's cure or further preventive is considered just a trifle too drastic.

Postmaster General Bill Hayes is making a strong bid for the woman vote at the next election. The boss of all the postmasters says that if a woman postmaster or postoffice clerk feels that she can support at least one more on her salary there is no reason in the world why she shouldn't be allowed to assume the burden. Therefore, hereafter when a female postal employee desires to take unto herself a man to have and to hold and to "bawl out" on occasions, nobody but "she should worry" and it will not interfere with her rights or previous condition of servitude in the postal service. Good for Bill.

Prohibition enforcement and a decrease of 15 per cent. in the amount of money collected increased the cost of collection by 32 cents on every $100 taken in by the Bureau of Internal Revenue during the fiscal year 1921.

According to a summary of Commissioner Blair's annual report made public Monday, the tax collections were $4,595,000,365.74 compared with $5,407,580,251.81 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, a decrease of $812,579,886.07. Income and profits tax collections fall off $728,798,329.85.

The cost of administration of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the report says, was $40,203,716.74, not including expenditures from appropriations for refunding collections and taxes illegally collected. The cost of operation was 87 cents for each $100 collected compared with 55 cents for the fiscal year of 1920. In the law was $6,899,407.57 for Prohibition enforcement and enforcement of the narcotic laws and $130,000 for enforcing the child labor tax section of the Revenue Act of 1918. Without these sums, the cost of administering the law was 72 cents on every $100 collected.

Germany is not such a bad place at that. Listen. Germany has a "sea of alcohol" which would cover an area of sixty acres to a depth of three and a quarter feet.

This statement is made by an expert in the Vossische Breitung today. In fluid measure the quantity of alcohol on hand at the present time is given as 1,500,000 hectoliters, or approximately 35,000,000 gallons. This sea of alcohol is valued at a billion marks.

To Revive a Fire.
Dry orange and lemon peel make splendid fire revivers. Dried peel is especially good for bringing a dull fire to life in a sick room, where the cracking of a few sticks may wake the patient for whom sleep is necessary. All peel should be collected and dried in an oven that is cooling off after cooking. Then the peel should be stored in a tin or old string bag until it is needed.

Education Never Ceases.

The wisest fellows are the ones whose education isn't complete, and won't be complete as long as they can live, observe and think.

Respect Due.

Just thinking says he has all the respect in the world for a man who likes money if he likes it well enough to work for it.

The U. S. ROYAL CORD TIRE

Unquestionably the outstanding merchandising success of the year—both in the eyes of the trade and of the car-owner. When the U. S. books close for 1921, they will show U. S. Royal Cord sales nearly doubled over 1920.

What U. S. Tires say and do commands a greater audience than any other line of tires in the world.

Where is the tire dealer headed for in 1922

ALONG about this time of the year the tire-dealer is a much called upon man.

Probably a dozen different "Agencies" for a dozen different tires are hopefully spread before him.

But when he gets off by himself and starts to think he finds out that most so-called Agency Franchises are hardly more than permission to invest his money in this brand or that brand at his own risk.

Consider now—not what is said in behalf of the U. S. Tire Sales and Service Agreement—but what it does.

Consider general conditions for the past year. And note everywhere that U. S. Tire dealers have been the least affected of all.

Observe how generally the U. S. Tire dealer is respected. Not alone by the public but by his local competitors.

The U. S. Tire dealer always knows where he is at. Right now—or in making his plans for 1922.

He can always put his hands on the U. S. consistent merchandising policy.

Where the U. S. Sales Franchise separates from the rest and asserts its prerogatives are in these things—

It brings to the dealer's store the greatest and most loyal tire-audience anywhere.

It supports the dealer with the most constructive and courageous publicly expressed policies today.

It carries the prestige of the U. S. Royal Cord Tire and the "USCO" Tread.

It is the most sought after Franchise in the whole tire trade.

U. S. dealers will be the ranking tire-merchants of 1922. Not only in profits returned, but in local reputation as business citizens.

EXNICKIOUS—HARD TO TAKE

John Exnicious, the fellow with the patent medicine name, who threw such a scare into the liquor peddlers at Pittsburgh when he arrived from California to enforce the dry law, was called before a Federal Judge there and soundly lectured because he gave out his opinion that the courts were not doing their duty.

We do not know how long the arm of judicial authority is, but we are going to risk a trip to Pittsburgh by saying that we agree with Exnicious and we are not alone in our opinion.

It has indeed been a rare occasion when anyone aside from a defenseless foreigner has been imprisoned for selling liquor. Thousands of hotel men continue in business without fear of molestation. Federal officers and their friends have become suddenly and strangely wealthy. The real booze peddlers, dealers in carloads, truckloads, etc.; the Federal officials who hob-nob with sharks and devour the minnows, find in Exnicious a medicine hard to swallow.

As to the action taken by Judge Bell here yesterday in imposing jail sentences, we reprint the following editorial from The Pittsburgh Sun:

JAIL SENTENCES

The note of sternness in some recent sentences of men convicted of violating the prohibition laws in the United States court here is certain to have a salutary effect. Tremendous profits are being made in the illegal sale of intoxicants. A fine must be very large indeed, to deter an offender from repetition. A small fine is merely a glorified form of license. But a jail sentence speaks in a language that every law defier understands and heeds.

Just as there is public criticism of the courts when they seem to be too lenient, so should there be frank approval of every court that reveals sternness in the inflexible administration of justice.

Particularly should there be gratification at the imposition of exemplary punishment for notorious offenses.

When jail sentences become the rule rather than the exception, bootlegging will be listed among the dangerous occupations.

OUR NEXT WORK

It is high time for the people of this county to recognize their duty towards ex-service men, and before another campaign or drive is decided upon for any community institution, let everyone realize that we are one of the few counties which has done nothing to show our gratitude.

The American Legion, that fine, upstanding organization of ex-service men, has formed many posts throughout the county, furnishing their own quarters, paying rent and bearing all expenses. They have asked nothing, but have paid their own way.

Here in Clearfield the Legion is a bulwark of Americanism. It gave us last year the first real enjoyable Fourth of July we ever had. It has given Clearfield a band that is unexcelled.

We have done nothing in return. Let the "Memorial" be the next work of this community and let it take such form as may be desired by the men themselves.

Meantime show your appreciation of their band by attending the concert tonight or tomorrow night.

MEDICAL EXAMS FOR DRIVERS

A medical examination for every driver of an automobile is compulsory in many communities. It should be so everywhere. Re-examination at regular intervals, with records to check up on every case, would protect the public safety still more.

The coroner in one of the larger cities was called to investigate the death of a taxicab driver, who had died suddenly in his room. Death had occurred from heart trouble as the man bent over to tie his shoes. Further investigation proved that the man had been a sufferer from serious heart disease for a long time. Had his death occurred while he was driving his cab, as could easily have happened, the results might have been disastrous to others besides the driver.

That city demands a medical examination. The man had passed one some time before his death. A re-examination would have discovered the heart trouble, which probably was too slight to be detected at the first inspection.

IT PAYS TO KNOW

Trace success to its reason and you will find they succeed who know, and they know who investigate.

SQUEALERS NOT WELCOME BEFORE CRIMINAL JURY

White Mule Case Ordered Dismissed And Prosecutor Ordered To Pay All Costs.

OTHER COURT NEWS

The jurors who heard the evidence in the first case tried at the Special Criminal Court now in session here have no time for "squealers" according to the verdict they rendered in this case.

Steve Baum was arrested over at DuBois some time ago on complaint of Victoria Miazza, who charged him with violation of the liquor law and assault and battery. The evidence presented showed that Miazza alleged to have purchased some "white mule" from the defendant and this sale constituted the violation of the law complained of. The jury decided that the purchaser was worse than the dealer in this case and returned a verdict finding the defendant not guilty and directing that the prosecutor pay the costs.

"No Funds" Check Case Up
The second case taken up was that of Com. vs. William A. Haverlock, of Irvona, who was charged by the Opperman Cigar Co., with issuing a check when he had no funds in bank. This action was brought under the Act of 1919 and was the first case of its kind to reach the Clearfield County courts. Haverlock was defended by W. C. Miller, Esq., while District Attorney Arnold conducted the prosecution. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Speed Case Motion Quashed

Some time ago Messrs. Dorr, Bickford and a couple of other prominent citizens of Osceola were caught in Burgess Henry's Chester Hill speed trap and haled before Justice Finnegan to answer for exceeding the speed limit. The defendants gave bail for court as they alleged that they had not driven beyond the legal speed. Attorney A. M. Liveright attacked the proceedings before the court and made a plea Monday afternoon for the quashing of the indictment claiming the same did not comply with the letter of the Act of Assembly and that his clients were not guilty of a law violation. District Attorney Arnold opposed the motion and Judge Bell rendered his decision this morning in which he dismissed the motion to quash and the defendants must settle or stand trial.

Bail Forfeited

Thomas Reay, of DuBois, who was indicted for aggravated assault and battery, did not respond when called and his bail was forfeited and a bench warrant for his arrest awarded.

MRS. LEIGHOW'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. James Leighow was held from the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Frechuer, at Danville, Pa. her native town.

The funeral sermon, a beautiful and touching tribute was delivered by Rev. Grey, he taking for his text "She hath done what she could."

Particular reference was made to the noble work of this woman among the foreigners about her home.

Six of her nephews acted as pall bearers and the floral tributes were beautiful and many.

Before her death Mrs. Leighow often expressed her readiness and willingness to depart from this life and had personally selected her burial plot in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Danville.

HORSEMAN ON TRIP OVER COUNTRY STOPS OFF HERE

Youth Making Horseback Visit To Capital
Of Every State Tells
Story To Progress.

Andrew J. Abell, Jr., who says he is riding horse-back across the American continent for the purpose of winning a college or university education, reached Clearfield in his long jaunt Saturday last and dropped into The Progress office to tell his story. Abell, who is 18, says that on May 1, 1921, he and four other boys left San Francisco on a trip which was to take them into every State of the Union. The conditions were that they should visit every State capital and not only secure the signature of the Governor but must also have the seal of the State on the paper. The estimated mileage for the trip was approximately 12,000 miles. The boys were to report back to San Francisco on May 1, 1922, and all of the five who did so were to be awarded a course in any college or university in America or Europe and all expenses paid by a wealthy gentleman who wished to test the luck and stamina of the American boy.

Came Through Boalsburg
Abell came to Clearfield from Boalsburg, Centre county, Saturday and after stopping here all night journeyed to DuBois on Sunday. From DuBois he expects to proceed to Charleston, W. Va., and thence down through the southern States and across the Gulf of Mexico. Thus far he has visited 29 states and Governors, also Washington and President Harding, and has the other 19 states to cover.

Abell is riding a Kentucky thoroughbred sorrel mare named Junius who has a mark of 2:04½ and is 17 years of age. Junius, like her master, looks tough and wiry and but little the worse for her long journey. She has been averaging about 38 miles per day since starting the long dull journey and danced over our brick streets in the 90th set of shoes on the trip.

Dog Rides Horse Back

A Fox Terrier dog, named Grit, made up the third member of the party. Grit was quartered in a leather box behind the saddle and was sleek and fat and appeared to be thoroughly enjoying his experience. His master says Grit is the only dog in the world to cross the American continent on horse back and the only dog that ever appeared before, sat up and shook hands with 29 Governors and the President of the U. S. A.

Abell is an alert, keen eyed, red-headed youngster, with a wealth of self confidence and says he has already covered 7200 miles and will negotiate the remaining 6200 or bust his galluses.

Of the five men who started on the long journey all have dropped out save Abell. One of the out-

tants succumbed to an attack of muscular pneumonia in Montana, while another died as the result of a rattlesnake bite in the mountains of one of the far western States. The other two quit.

Abell, while riding through the mountains of Kentucky, was taken for a moonshiner by a bunch of State troops, who shot him in three places.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good. If you think it will induce some one to try the Vegetable Compound you may publish this letter."

Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.

The LITTLE SHOP AROUND the CORNER

TIMOR, THE HAITI OF THE EAST, LAST OF PORTUGAL'S EAST INDIA EMPIRE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—Timor, which is the only territory of a considerable area which Portugal owns east of India, and which with the four-square mile port of Macao constitutes Portugal's possessions in what is generally known as the Far East, is a sort of Haiti-San Domingo of the East Indies," says one of the bulletins of the National Geographic Society in regard to the far eastern lands of the countries represented at the Washington Conference.

"Across its middle," continues the bulletin, "runs a surveyed line dividing it roughly into halves, one controlled by Portugal and the other by Holland. The similarity with Haiti is heightened by the fact that the natives of Timor, unlike those of most of the islands to the west of it, are largely of negro origin, due it is believed, to an influx of blood from the black, woolly-haired natives of New Guinea.

Long Center of Turbulence

"And like its West Indian double, Timor has been a center of turbulence. For nearly two centuries the Portuguese and Dutch fought at frequent intervals back and forth across the imaginary line that separates their territory. In 1859 the line was fixed definitely and the treaty as since amended has relieved friction. It is provided that any subsequent disputes shall be settled by arbitration.

"An examination of a map brings out strikingly what a small fraction Timor is of the vast land area of the East Indies, once entirely under Portuguese dominion. But the island is not so small as it at first appears to be. With the huge bulk of Australia a short distance to the south, and three of the largest islands in world grouped about it to the north, east and west, Timor seems an insignificant speck. Its area, however, is 12,450 square miles—almost four times as great as that of Porto Rico and about equal to that of Massachusetts and Connecticut together. The Portuguese territory alone has twice the area of Porto Rico.

A Victim of Australia

"Neither the Portuguese nor the Dutch portions of Timor have been developed to any considerable extent though both of the nations have been represented on the island for more than 300 years. This is in large part due to the fact that Timor is relatively poor in natural resources. The island is the victim of its proximity to Australia. For many months each year hot, dry winds from the Australian deserts blow over Timor parching its vegetation and drying up its streams. The only patches of forests to be found on the southern shores of the islands are in protected valleys. The northern half has a moister climate and a heavier growth of vegetation.

"Portuguese Timor has an area of 7,330 square miles and an estimate population of nearly 400,000. Except for the port and capital of Dilli, a place with some 3000 inhabitants, Portugal has made little impression on the island. The people of the interior are in a more or less savage state and are even reported to still engage in head-hunting. In the highlands fear the coast a crude sort of agriculture is practiced. The country is capable of producing a superior grade of coffee but only a small quantity is now raised.

Naked Natives' Rob Bees

"Wild bees are numerous, and in the mild climate of Timor build their comb in the open on the under side of the limbs of tall trees. One of the picturesque though perhaps painful industries is the collection of the nests by nearly naked native tree-climbers. The people feast on the honey and sell the wax which forms one of the chief exports of the island.

"Only 300 miles off the north coast of Australia, Timor is the last link in an island chain sweeping from Singapore, the southeast corner of Asia, to the big south continent, and by virtue of this location it may become an important way station for aerial traffic between Australia and Asia and Europe. Sir Ross Smith, Australian airman, in his famous trail-blazing flight from London to Australia in 1919, landed in Timor, and from there "hopped off" on the last leg of his international continental journey."

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Railroad profits may be cut after March 1st next the Interstate Commerce Commission intimated today.

Such action, officials said, would be made certain by sweeping reduction of railroad rates.

"That way there's have stalled on and get through."

Postum is a thoroughly agreeable meal-time drink, and you're sure it's perfectly safe for health. Coffee contains which disturb and harm the health of many.

Postum or coffee? Which road?

Why guess when you can know?

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

Miss Alice Bilger spent Thanksgiving with her sister Mrs. Furgerson of DuBois.

Herbert Ellinger, of Locust Ridge and Miss Celia Walker of Gramplan were married at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday November 23, 1921, by Rev. Dr. John C. Collins.

Mrs. Joseph Test returned Sunday evening from a week's visit with relatives in Punxsutawney.

Mrs. J. L. Curtin entertained two tables of "Bridge" on Saturday night at her home on state street.

Would Wake All Hours Said Well Known Xenia Fireman

But Nerv-Worth Quickly Overcame This Trouble Along With Digestive Troubles.

"I was very nervous and run-down, and was troubled with a bad stomach," said W. P. Maher of 29 Locust St., Xenia, Ohio, a former railroad fireman, and he continues, "I suffered extreme pain after eating, and I blushed and had gas on my stomach. I could not sleep at night, and would wake at all hours suffering from pain. I have taken only two bottles of Nerv-Worth and my stomach no longer bothers me. I sleep fine now, and have no more gas or bloating. I feel like a new man, and I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth." If you suffer from nervous or stomach disorders, or a run-down condition, the old reliable time-tested Nerv-Worth will give you help. If you are not satisfied after taking your first bottle, your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

Nerv-Worth is now $1.00 per bottle, at Stewart's Drug Co.

WHO SAID MUMPS?

All the kids in town are getting the mumps—Bill Wrigley has them. This fact moves us to observe that this life is not only one darn thing after another but simply a matter of averages or getting what's coming to us.

Take Bill for instance. During the "milkteeth stage" of Bill's existence, he escaped several things all healthy American boys are never happy without, among which was the mumps. He has progressed far enough in life's journey to have a couple of candidates of his own for this annoying ailment but that availeth Bill nothing when the Recorder began to average. Bill for the first time of his sojourn with us. When the balance was struck preparatory to starting the year, it was found that Bill had the mumps coming. He's got them now and if you don't believe us see Health officer Gaulin. He quarantined Bill in his Locust Street house at 2 P. M. today. Bill has lots of 'em too and has reluctantly decided to give up his deer hunting this year.

Goody for Apple Stair Carpet.
Always lay a yard more than needed, since it can be shifted up or down a little every time it is taken up, so that it wears evenly. Otherwise the part over the stairs will be worn completely through, while the uprights are as good as new. The surplus can be folded up at the top or bottom. Just try it, you'll find your carpet will last as long and won't begin to show very much worn till it is about as old as it is all used up.

ARE YOU DRINKING ENOUGH MILK?

Are you putting into your system that proper rebuilding material that will make up for the strain that you're putting on your system?

There's only one food that combines all the properties that are carried in milk and there's no better way of making up for the lost vitality than to drink plenty of nature's first food.

The milk we're serving is given every care that milk can possibly have and then a few little precautions are taken that aren't usually thought of by the average dairyman.

Milk is the properly balanced food. Are you drinking enough of it?
